ISN Regional Training Centers

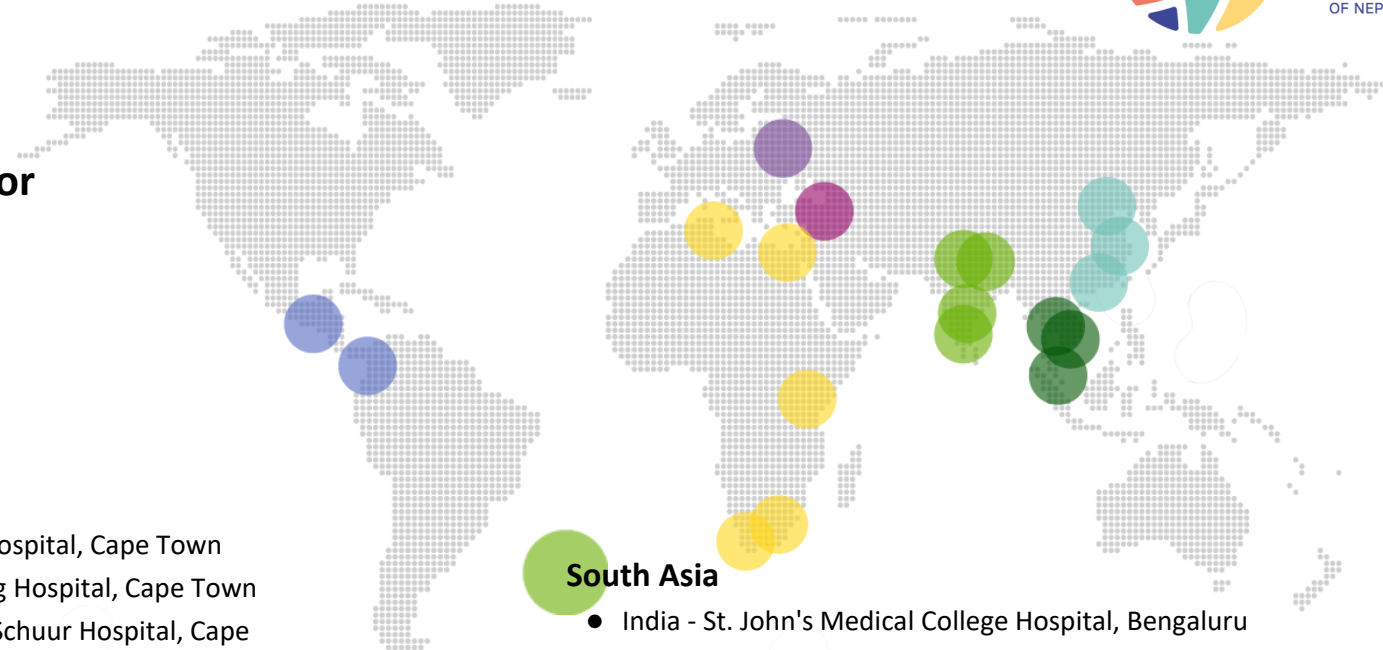

ISN Regional Training Centers play a key role in ISN's continuing efforts to establish and develop nephrology in low- and middle-income countries. We expect Regional Training Centers to promote ISN activities in their region, and become a regional hub, for example by:

- Hosting fellows (ISN provides up to 12 months of financial support to fellows).
- Holding educational meetings and workshops on regionally relevant topics.
- Sharing knowledge and expertise via the ISN Educational Ambassadors or Continuing Medical Education Programs.
- Supporting emerging centers from low resource areas through the Sister Centers Programs.
- Contributing to the ISN Academy – either by developing educational materials or contributing to webinars.
- Developing and engaging in advocacy activities and collaborations with your local and regional authorities.

ISN Regional Training Centers

ISN Regional Training Centers provide nephrology training to local doctors and health professionals in low, lower-middle, or upper-middle-income countries from their region through ISN Granting Programs.
